

Feel the Energy

Z+ Frequently Asked Questions

WHAT MAKES Z+ DIFFERENT?

There are a lot of reasons to love Z+. It starts when you take your first sip and the delicious mango peach flavor hits your tongue (at last, an energy drink whose flavor you actually love!). But take a closer look at the label, and you'll see some pretty impressive stuff. To start, Z+ is infused with antioxidant-rich ingredients, including the ancient superfruit amalaki and green coffee bean extract. It also boasts potent ingredients such as yerba mate extract and taurine, plus a host of vitamins to ignite vitality and alertness. What's not in Z+ is important, too. With only 2 grams of sugar per serving (compared to 27 grams in the leading energy drink!), and no added caffeine, Z+ has been designed with your long-term health in mind. Now you can enjoy extra energy whenever you need it without the rush, crash and calorie overload of other drinks.

HOW MUCH CAFFEINE IS IN ONE CAN OF Z+?

There are 75 milligrams of caffeine in one can of Z+ — approximately the same as is in a cup of coffee. This is also comparable to the caffeine content per serving of other leading energy drink beverages.

HOW MUCH SUGAR IS IN Z+?

Z+ only contains 2 grams of sugar per serving (that's half a teaspoon, for those of you who don't know what a gram looks like). Compare this to other energy drink beverages which typically contain 27 grams (almost 7 teaspoons) — or more! — per can. Want more information about how Z+ stacks up against the competition? ### HOW MANY CALORIES ARE IN Z+?

Z+ contains 20 calories per serving. Again — compare this to the average calorie content of many popular energy drinks (often upwards of 100 or 200 calories per can). Want more information about how Z+ stacks up against the competition? Refer to our Energy Drink Comparison Chart.
